By the removal of the old hay scales, on the Keubler property, an added improvement has been made to our village. The ground has been nicely graded and white spruce trees planted, thus beautifying a spot in the center of our town, which for years has been of no use whatever for hay scales. The owner of the property deserves a great deal of credit in making such an improvement.

The animal also bit a cow belonging to H. B. Coxe. The bovine was immediately killed. The head of the dog was sent to an institution in Philadelphia to determine whether it was suffering with rabies. After receiving a reply that the dog had hydrophobia, the persons that were bitten were immediately notified and both consented to be treated. The animal had a tag on his collar, showing ownership by a Philadelphian.

Ambler High Forging to the Lead.

The Ambler high school team is running strong for winning the highest honors in the Bucks-Montgomery High School league. But one game separates the Ambler boys from being in the lead. Doylestown is now out in front one game ahead. To date the local team has played the most consistent baseball. A glance at the games thus far played will prove this. The opening contest took place at Perkasie and resulted in a 9 to 0 score for the home team. Pullinger, the star boxman for Ambler, allowed but one hit. Next game was lost to Doylestown by the score of 6 to 0. However, it might be stated here that many of the breaks of the game went against the Ambler boys. No fewer than six or seven hard run. It was a pitcher's battle, between Pullinger and Gulick, with the since the days of Kelly, Edgerton, pinches. hTey both struck out 12 batters. However, Gulick allowed but four hits, while Pullinger was touched up for seven. The next game was played at Jenkintown and the team of that place fell easy victims to the prowess of the Ambler team and was obliged to take the short end of a 12 to 2 score. Lansdale came to Ambler full of confidence and fully expected to defeat the locals, but in this contest Ambler played gilt edge ball and the Lansdalers went down to defeat by the score of 6 to 0. Pullinger was at his best, and at no time did the visitors have a chance.

Then came the annual game with Germantown Friends' school, and not latter having the best support in the MacLaughlin, Maust, Buchanan, Irvin, Rile, Ball and Rapp, who at that time made up the Ambler high school team, was the local team able to place the game on the right side of the ledger until last Friday, when the visitors dropped one of the best games ever seen between High school teams in a long time. The Germantown boys looked like sure-enough winners at the start, putting across three runs in the second inning, while the locals scored but two in the same session. The visitors put over another tally in the fifth. However, this was all, and in the same inning the Ambler boys by good batting and base running scored three tallies, which was enough to win. Pullinger pitched masterly ball in this game, fanning no fewer than eight of the visitors. The game at Souderton last Friday was a repetition of the other contests and the up-country boys, in a regular league game, had to take the short end of a 7 to 4 score. This Friday the Ambler boys will play at Doylestown, and the pupils and faculty alike are pulling hard for the team to win. The largest student body that ever accompanied a local team is expected will go to the Bucks county seat to cheer the boys to victory. The team is made up of the following players this year: Gilbert, Colgan, Davis, Pullinger, Richards, Schnell, Seiple, Fisher, Douglas, Noble and Stevens.

NOTES OF THE DIAMOND.

Gilbert is putting a star game at short and is also hitting well.

Davis is a stone wall behind the bat, and not only is doing the receiving in fines tyle, but he is also up there hitting at a 300 clip.

Colgan is playing a nice game at first, and many of his drivers are for extra bases.

The singing of the student body at the games is a real feature. Let's have more of it, and don't forget to cheer the boys when they make a good play.

Pullinger's drop was in fine working order in the Germantown Friends' game, which was the real cause of the visitors' defeat. Russell, besides pitching well, as also among the clean-up hitters when hits mean runs.

Richards is holding down the third corner in such a manner as to please the student body in general.

Stevens, Schnell, Douglas and Fisher are all playing their respective positions well enough to mean defeat for the other teams.

BLUE BELL.

Anna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walton, died at the residence of her parents early Monday morning. The funeral was held this Wednesday afternoon with interment at Gwynedd Friends' meeting burial ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Erb recently entertained the following persons: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hane of Ambler Highlands; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Clark, of Johnsville; Miss Elwood Kneezel, Mrs. Henrietta Cleaver, of Horsham, and Harry Earnest of Fort Washington.

Our baseball club to date has given the indication that visiting teams will have to play at top speed to carry off the laurels. In the recent contests our boys have come out on the long end after a hard fought battle against odds and on several occasions the games have been pulled out of the fire at the last period of play. That the playing of the locals is being appreciated is shown by the fact that at a recent meeting of the athletic association a resolution was adopted to increase the seating capacity at the ball park. Next Sunday the Stenton Field club, one of the strongest clubs in the suburbs of Philadelphia, will be the attraction at the local park.

Lansdale High's Good Showing.

Joe Weaver's Lansdale High relay team not only repeated their victory of last year in the Philadelphia Suburban Championship in the University of Pennsylvania's carnival recently at Franklin Field but in addition broke the record for the event by almost three seconds, when they travelled the mile in 3 minutes 36 4-5 seconds.

The North Penn quartet, R. Kratz, W. Kratz, Buman and Wieand, went out in front and showed the way to the best high school teams in this section. Their acheivement on a damp, dismisal day is doubly worthy of commendation. The former record was 3 minutes 39 3-5 seconds hung up by Cheltenham High in 1915.

Norristown High was one of the starters in this race and had it not been for an accident would have placed. Ben Swede, the first runner, was tripped and fell flat on his stomach. This put the local team out of the races but they gallantly finished it and held their own all the way.

POTATOES IN TRANSIT.

Care in Shipment Avoids Loss by Heating.

Railways Not Come to Point of Steam-Heating Produce Cars—Modern of Heating in Vogue That Has been Used Successfully.

Most of the 413,000,000-bushel crop of potatoes harvested in the United States will be shipped by rail, and a large part of it will go in box cars at a time when the temperature is below freezing. There cars will remain exposed to the weather for days at a time, and even where refrigerator cars are used the frost will permeate the thick insulated walls. Experiences show that to ship potatoes carefully in winter artificial heat is necessary, and in sections where the most potatoes are shipped it has been found expedient to install stoves. Few railroads have yet come to the point of heating produce cars, although it is hoped that more will do so eventually.

STUDIED CAR HEATING.

At a time when the conservation of every ounce of food was vital the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture, made a study of car-heating arrangements for potato shipments, and the method devised has been put into successful use. In using stoves in potato cars thorough distribution of heat is essential. The stove is placed in the middle of the car, and unless special precautions are taken it will overheat the potatoes near the door, while those farther away, especially on the floor, will fail to get heat and become frozen.

The most successful method is to build a false floor and walls with a bulkhead at each side of the stove so that the hot air may circulate freely all around the potatoes, returning under the false floor to the point of heating. It is necessary also to paper the entire interior of the car to prevent too rapid cooling of thec irculating air.

Equipping the car in this way is somewhat expensive, but not in comparison to the value of the potatoes protected, especially when the equipped car :un be usd svral tims, as is the case under arrangements in Maine and other potatoe centers. The lumber required for a standard car 8 by 8 1-2 by 36 feet, with doors 5 feet wide, is as follows:

13 pieces 2 by 4 inches by 14 feet long.

8 pieces 2 by 6 inches by 16 feet long.

1300 square feet of 1-inch lumber 16 feet long.

2250 square feet of building paper.

Place 7-foot studding around the walls of the car about 3 feet apart with blocks behind so that there is a total air space of 6 inches at the end an air space on the sides 4 inches at the top spreading to 6 inches at the bottom. Flooring should be laid on 2 by 6 stringers, set up edgewise and run lengthwise of the car. t is important that the spaces should be left open at both ends so that there is perfect circulation of the warm air. The flooring and sides should be double, with building paper between the thickness.

AIR SHOULD CIRCULATE FREELY.

The spaces between the studding should be left open at the top and bottom. Do not make the mistake of nailing a strip across the end of the stringers toward the stove, as this will prevent warm air circulation.

A suitable bulkhead is to be built on the car, with a hole for the stove pipe. Railroads have special regulations for the placing and securing of the stove. The car should be heated for at six hours before loading, and longer in extremely cold weather.

A suitable sulkhead it to be built on each side of the door, to be put in place as the potatoes are loaded. The sacks of potatoes should not be piled closer than 8 inches to the ceiling, as circulation of air is essential. The main principle of shipping potatoes safely in heated cars is to secure perfect circulation of air completely around the cargo. When the car is fitted up in them anner described here, the air flows over the top of the bulkheads which, of course, are left several inche from the ceiling. It circulates over the potatoes, the papered ceiling preventing too much cooling from the outside, and then comes down to the end of the car and back under the floor, some of the air currents also flowing down the sides between the studding.

As care thus equipped come more into use, better arrangements are being made with railway companies for preserving the equipment. In Maine the potato cars with stoves are returned to shippers free of charge, and in Western States the general rule is to return thel umber and stoves free. Even where full freight rates are charged on the return of the equipment, the expense is reasonable when compared with the los which would occur from shipping in unprotected cars.

Whip Auto Bandits.

Harry Barrett and William Casey, of Conshohocken, while returning from Chestnut Hill about midnight, were held up by two men near the city line. A machine was placed across the road and a man stood on its running board, holding a red lantern. Casey and Barrett stopped their machine, thinking that the roadway was blocked.

The man with the lantern walked toward them. He placed the lantern on the running board and ordered them to throw up their hands. What later happened proved that the hold-up men had not rekoned with their hosts for instead of complying with the demand. Casey struck the highwayman in the face. Casey himself was then struck on the head with a pistol and rendered unconscious. Barrett kicked the assailant in the face, knocking him down; he then turned to start the machine. But before he could do so found a other man on his side of the car climbing to board the machine. Barrett frustrated this attempt by striking the man in the mouth, knocking him down. Barrett then made a hasty getaway, Casey soon regaining consciousness.

Potatoes for 38 Cents.

Potatoes sold for 38 cents a bushel recently at the public auction held by Christian Moyer, Dublin.

Cows sold as low as $60 and none higher than $99. Bids for an 8-horse gas engine, a reaper and binder and other articles were so low they were not sold. A mowing machine was bid only to $6. Plows worth $15 sold $50 sold for $8.50

Repairing Bridge to Cost $3235.

William G. Just, of Gwynedd Valley and O. K. Schwenk, o. Spring Mount, were the low bidders on county proposals to repair two Montgomery county bridges in submittals opened by the County Commissioners for repairing the Port Kennedy bridge over the Sschuylkill River Just bid $2235 and Schwenk bid $1000 for repairs to the bridge on Whitehall road. The number of contractors who bid were a surprise to the County Commissioners, last year two bidders on work were the rule, these bids had seven competitors, indicating an anxiety to land contracts A still larger number are expected to bid on remaining contracts as repairs are planned on some twenty-eight county bridges in Montgomery this summer, for which will be asked in the near future.

Herdlea Sales are Off.

Through attorneys representing the Herdlea farm estate in Solebury township, owned by Anderson T. Herd, against which sheriff Harvey D. Hunsberger, of Bucks county, levied about a month ago, a sale advertised to be held Friday morning at the Sheriff's office in the Court House, Doylestown, was called off upon the payment of claims and costs aggregating approximately $27,000.

The Herdlea farms are known throughout Pennsylvania and other states. The owner has established one of the most modern farms in the country at an expenditure of probably $200,000.

It was rumored Friday morning that New York capital is behind the settlement and that an effort will again be made to put the farms in working shape to carry out the idea fostered by the owner.

Wills Probated.

The will of Mary A. Johnson, late of Skippack, gives an estate valued at $2500 to her daughter, Alice, wife of Benjamin R. Reiff. The latter is named as executor.

Charles P. Waage, late of Pennsburg, disposes of an estate valued at $4500, which is given to "Eugene" and "Gertrude." Mary C. Weidner is named as executrix.

Henry S. Bieler, late of East Greenville, gives an estate valued at $1100 to his wife, and Milton S. Bieler is named as executor.

John S. Frederick, late of Towamencin, disposes of an estate valued at $3000. The Old Mennonite Congregation of Towamencin, is given $50. The residue is given to the children of decedent, share and share alike. Two sons, Horace and Oliver, are named as executors.

Award Widow $25,000.

Mrs. Julia M. Landenberger, of Franklin and Pike street, Philadelphia, has been awarded a verdict of $25,000 damages against the John Wood Manufacturing company, of Conshohocken, for the death of her husband, George. The man was killed a year ago when a compressed air tank being repaired by the Camden Heating Company by which company Landenberger was employed, exploded. The verdict was rendered in the U. S. circuit court, at Philadelphia.

John M. Caffrey, of Lindenwold, was awarded $2500 for injuries received in the same fatal blast.

Officials of the Wood Company disclaimed responsibility for the accident, declaring that the tank was in perfect condition when it left the factory.

Actions Brought.

Actions have been brought in the office of the Prothonotary as follows:

By Attorneys Williams and Eagon, suit in divorce in behalf of Anna L. Moses Strough, of Norristown, from John R. Strough, on the ground of desertion on August 9, 1920. The couple were married November 4, 1907.

By Attorney F. Kenneth Moore, suit in divorce in behalf of William Henry F. Hocman, of New Hanover, against Mary J. Reinford Hoffman on the ground of desertion on July 27, 1918. The couple were married September 29, 1917.

By Attorney Joseph L. Prince in behalf of the D. L. Ward Company, of Philadelphia, against the Pottstown Ledger Co. No statement of accompanies the praecipe.

By Attorney Joseph H. Cohan, in behalf of DeArmond Ashmead and Bickley against Horace F. Moore to recover $150, amount alleged to be due on a bill for cement.

$2 Bill 'Raised'.

Corporal Banks, of the state police, recently placed Frank Urbin, of Philadelphia, under arrest for passing a $2 bill in a Pottstown drug store as a $10 note. The bill had been raised by placing new figures over the original in each of the four corners on both sides of the bank not., and covering the letters "w" and "o" on the dark side of the note with an "e" and an "n." The work, however was very crude, and resulted in a detection of the fraud by Daniel Bause, a seventeen year-old youth employed at the drug store.

Urbin, who gives his address as 1011 Mt. Vernon street, Philadelphia, and his age twenty-six years, created suspicion by his manner when he entered the drug store. He purchased several cigars and then tendered the bill in payment. The clerk stated that he would have to leave the drug store to get the change and went out the rear way and notified the state police. Corporal Banks responded with one of his fellow officers. The latter went to the rear entrance and the corporal to the High street entrance. When Urbin stepped out of the door he was picked up, and then taken to the rooms of the state officer in the Shuler House.

Lansdale's Dog Crusade.

It is a pretty slippery Lansdale canine that wasn't looked over by representatives of the department of agriculture last Thursday and Friday. It was an even more elusive owner of an unlicensed dog who wasn't summoned to appear at the office of Justice of the Peace Howard F. Boorse, Friday night.

In all twenty-one unlicensed dogs were located by the State authorities during their stay at Lansdale. The unlicensed dog clean-up was under the management of Game Protector Jeremiah Reinert.

The twenty-one owners were summoned to appear Friday night. Twenty of them did. The twenty-first failed to put in an appearance and it cost him a few extra ducats to be the object of further persuasion.

Dr. Thomas Address Home and School Association.

The Spring Mill Home and School association, at its last meeting, was addressed by Dr. J. Quincy Thomas, of Conshohocken, on the subject, Health and Hygiene. Dr. Thomas laid great stress on the care of the teeth, tonsils and stomach of children and adults; also explaining in detail the function of the different organs of the body, especially the stomach and the effects of different diseases and ailments on these. His address was extremely educational and the association was very fortunate in having one so eminently fitted to speak.

It is the purpose of chairman T. J. Raser, to keep before the association live and vital topics. These evenings spent with the Association, aside from being educational to the parents, are of great value to the teachers and pupils, and promote the "get-together" spirit and help to make one feel how dependent all are on one another for success and happiness.

Membership in the association is not confined to parents only but is open to anyone who is interested in education, community uplift and the rising generation.

The association expects in the near future to hold an old fashioned spelling bee for the members. A large attendance is looked for at future meetings.

Roof Caves In On Workman, Leg Broken.

Grant Wood, aged 56, a carpenter living at Collegeville, has been in Montgomery Hospital suffering from a broken leg and painful body bruises, sustained when he was caught beneath a falling roof.

Word was engaged in dismantling a frame garage on the premises formerly owned by Henry Yost at the corner of Ridge and Gravel pikes at Collegeville and there were three other men in the interior of the building, when the roof suddenly dropped in.

The noise overhead was sufficient warning to allow his companions to get out safely, but Wood was caught beneath parts of the falling timber. After considerable difficulty he was rescued from the debris and it was at first thought he was dead.

He was placed in a machine and taken to the hospital but recovered consciousness on the way. It was found at the hospital that he suffered from a broken leg.

Fatally Stricken on Return From Europe.

Louis L. Reineke, a wealthy toy importer of Philadelphia, died suddenly of heart disease Thursday at his home, Old York road and City Line, Melrose park. Mr. Reineke had just returned from an extended tour in Europe and apparently had been enjoing the best of health when stricken. He was sixty years old.

He ate a hearty meal last night and when about to retire was seized with a severe coughing spell. He died before a physician could be summoned. Coroner Neville gave a certificate of death from natural causes.

Mr. Reineke was head of the firm of Winters & Reineke. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Clarence Palmer.

May Contest School Eelection.

It is intimated that opponents of the erection of a new consolidated school for Hatfield borough and township, will attempt to prove the recent election when the school was endorsed by a 2 to 1 vote is illegal. It is said the contestants will attempt to show that one of the township election boards was not properly organized, and also that a number of Italians who live without the township were voted.

North Wales Principal.

Prof. John H. Carroll, of Easton, Pa., elected supervising principal of the North Wales public schols, at a meeting of the borough school board Prof. Caroll succeeds Prof. A. R. Ackerman, who severed his connection as school head after his resignation was not acted upon.

Prof. Ackerman is now at his farm, near Doylestown, and he says his future plans are indefinite.

Poetic Apology.

The Jewel that shines more brightly than those
That blends with others in crown, I suppose,
Persistence—its name, the purest of them,
Quality rare, weight, cut, truly a gem.

No other recompense, save that some thought
May find abode in your heart of be caught
By honest critic, whose worthier skill
May weave it in strains for a nobler thrill.

I write a theme in a natural way
With never a fear what others may say.
It flows like a stream from Spring beneath,
Resultant from urge our forebears bequeath.

Not even the wounds of my friends deter,
Keep on expressing 'Tho the others demur.
The world work is action. Straight is the course,
Living and dying, as matter and force.

So when you see at the end of a rhyme
Evidence that I am spending my time
Writing a thought in a metrical verse
Pardon the effort—It might have been worse.

WORK, AND MORE WORK.

Cure Suggested for Present Day Social Ills.

Labor Dissatisfied Because of Loafing They Witness—Need For Clearer Conception of Dignity of Labor and Purpose of Play.

There are servant troubles because all too many of our women seek vigor and health on tennis court and golf links, when they might obtain a far better supply of red blood corpuscles by spending as much time at the kitchen stove, at the wash tub, or at the sewing machine" said Rabbi Joseph Krauskopf, at Kenseth Israel Temple, Philadelphia, Sunday, in a discourse entitled "Too Much Play."

Practice of business men who avoid all the work possible to avoid was mentioned also in a comparison of the need twenty years ago of a gospel of relaxation with the need now for a gospel of work.

"In constantly increasing numbers," said the rabbi, "young women are as ignorant of domestic work as is a newborn babe. Large parts of their days are spent in bed, the other parts in idling, primping, dress-parading, gadding, pleasure-seeking, money spending.

STRANGERS TO HOUSEWORK.

"There is a lack of servants because all too many of our mothers and wives, of our sisters and daughters are wholly dependent upon them, are ignorant of even the simplest household work, know not—no matter how proficient in motoring, golfing, tennis playing horseback riding, dancing, dress parading, face painting—know not as much as how to boil an egg or how to peel a potato, or how to make a cup of coffee, or make a bed, or sweep the floor or wash the dishes.

"There the servant troubles because all too many of our women look upon domestic work as menial, degrading, unbefitting a lady, fit only for inferiors.

"There are servant troubles because too many of our women shift upon others the work that is obligatory upon themselves.

"There are servant troubles because the class of girls who formerly took positions as cooks and maid—when such work as theirs was made honorable by the participation in it by the mistress of the home and her daughters—seeing their mistresses nowadays victims of the work-shunning and pleasure-seeking disease, have caught the disease themselves. They seek employment in factories, mills, shops, where they are required to work but eight hours a day, where they have every evening and half of Saturday and all of Sunday off, to be spent on pleasure indulgence, in the dance halls, at the theaters, in motor trips, in street parading and the like.

"What is true of many of our working women is yet truer of far larger numbers of our laboring men. They, too, are stricken with the work-shunning and pleasure-seeking disease. whatever of the goings-on among the rich they do not know and see, the labor agitators tell them in unstinted words.

Laboring people ask themselves: bilious attack should not drink tea hard work for the working man, and a surplus of pleasure for the man of wealth? Why should not the men of toil have their full share of pleasure and idleness in life?'

"The shortening of the hours of work and the lengthening of the hours of play are the besetting sin of modern-day society, are responsible for not a few of our social sins, our desecration of the Sabbath, our spurning of religion, our extravagances, inmoralities, infidelities, infelicities. They are responsible for not a little of the bitter conflicts between capital and labor, between employer and employe. They are responsible for a very large part of the insufficiency of labor, and for the consequent high cost of living.

"What is needed is a clearer conception than now obtains of the dignity of labor and of the purpose of play."

Motor Cars Must Stay Away from Fires.

Local firemen and borough officials are interested in the bill for the protection of firemen that was passed April 1, and that went into effect April 21st. The local police force will be instructed to do everything in their power to see that the new law is enforced in this locality. The text of the law follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person except a person connected with a duly constituted fire department to drive at an excessive rate of speed to any fire or to race with any fire apparatus to any fire. It shall be unlawful for any persons to park any motor vehicle within one thousand feet on the same street of any fire other than such motor vehicles as may belong to any fire department or as may be used by any person connected with any fire department. It shall be unlawful for any person to drive any motor vehicle over any line of the hose which for the time being is being used for the purpose of extinguishing any fire. It shall be the duty of the driver of any motor vehicle upon hearing the approach of any fire apparatus from either direction to immediately bring his motor vehicle to a standstill on his or her right hand side of the road or street and to remain standing until such apparatus has passed his or her motor vehicle. This act shall not apply to any ambulance or police patrol. Nor shall any person be held to have violated the provisions of this act with regard to parking if the act of parking was done prior to the commencement of such fire.

Any person violating the provisions of this act shall upon conviction in a summary proceeding before a justice of the peace or alderman be sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars."

The act will in all probability do away with considerable annoyance experience by local firemen almost every time the fire alarm is sounded.

Four Are Paroled.

Katherine Buxton, a prisoner, has been paroled by Judge Swartz, and Miss Katherine Corson, of Norristown, appointed as parole officer.

Paroles were granted by the Court to prisoners for the purpose of working at the County Home and naming the Steward, John H. Bartman, as parole officer as follows:

John Gilsock, pleaded guilty to charge of larcey Nov. 9, 1920.

Sentenced to 10 months. Sentence expires September 9, 1921.

Nicola Di Marcello. Pleaded guilty to selling liqour without a license Nov. 10, 1920. Sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and six months imprisonment. Sentence expires May 10.

John Ruko, alias Pete George, alias John Sherman, Convicted of larceny and receiving stolen goods and larceny from the pers--- Nov. 12, 1919. Sentenced to two years. Sentence expires June 12 next.

It'll Cost More to Wed.

One of the revenue raisers, looking towards an increase in the receipts of the state, as planned by the lawmakers at Harrisburg, will affect bridegrooms. Assuming that the bill becomes a law, it will cost more to secure a marriage license in Pennsylvania.

Under the provisions of the measure now before the Legislature, and upon which a favorable report has been made by the committee, the license fee is increased 50 cents, this extra sum to go to the state.

French Leave at the County Home.

There was a decrease in population, especially among the males, at the Montgomery County Home at Black Rock, during the past month due to the opening of the Spring weather and the inclination of the men to seek other quarters rather than do farm work for the county.

Until some definite action is taken to require capable men to remain at the County Farm during the summer months in return for the accommodations given them in the winter, the taxpayers of the county will have to give pay to prisoners of the county jail, who may be assigned to the County Farm, under parole, to help with the ever increasing amount of work.

During March nine men, who had enjoyed the benefits of the County Home, secured their discharge from the institution under some pretext or orther, while two others did not wait for the formality of discharge, but just left. Death claimed three men during the month. The male admissions during the period numbered seven.

Of the women folks, four were admitted, death claimed one and another was duly discharged.

Of the present population at the institution of 170, of whom 94 are males, no less than 77 are under treatment at the County Hospital.

The County Home farm has been benefiting by the increase in the price of eggs, the past few weeks, as indicated by the report of Steward John H. Bartman in his receipts for March. The sale of eggs advanced from 35c to 38 cents per dozen, Saturday the general price for eggs atthe local markets was 40 cents per dozen. The County Farm is realizing better prices for potatoes sold to the County Prison than are the farmers in their sales to the trade. The March prices for potatoes, in the transfer from one department of the county to hte other was $1 per bushel. In the sale of calves from the County Farm, the prices averaged 12c and 13c a pound. The total receipts for the Steward's office for the month was $502.14, which included $169.10, collected through Attorney H. Wilson Stahlnecker, solicitor and secretary of the Board of Poor Directors, and also $130 in fines paid of sentences imposed by the court for misdemeanors. The Steward's expenses for the month were $54.92.

The dairy farm production for the past month was 6,596 quarts of milk and the making of 336 pounds of butter. The poultry farm produced 387 dozen of eggs.

The Board of Poor Directors has accepted the plans of J. Vincent Poley of Royersford for reconstruction of the hog pens so as to permit not only of better sanitary and other regulations but also to provide room for the mainting of a greater stock.

Besides her husband she leaves a son and a daughter.

The following announcement is of interest to Amblerites: Ex-Senator and Mrs. Webster Grim, of Doylestown, delightfully entertained twenty-two friends at dinner Friday evening at the General Greene Inn, Buckingham, when they announced in a very clever way, the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ruth S. Grim, a popular member of the younger set of Doylestown, to Joseph W. Craft, Jr., of Ambler. Mr. Craft who was in the army during the war, is a member of a coal and lumber firm in Ambler. The engagement was announced when a telegram was received during the festivities. It was addressed to Henry Leroy Kister, who was informed that previous rumors were false and that the Senator had reserved the right to make the announcement. Following the dinner the party attended the Bachelor Club ball in the Sixth Regiment Armory.

On Friday afternoon at 2.30 from his late residence, Bethlehem pike, were held funeral services over the remains of the late Samuel L. Fisher, Rev. A. G. On the afternoon of April 21, the members of the Colony Club and their guests had a most enjoyable afternoon. He gave "The Indian Lament," by Kreisler; "Jocelyn," by Godard; and "The Deluge," by Saints Saens. After the opening violin solo thep lay. "How the Story Grew," was given by members of the Colony Club. "Mrs. Green," Harriet Williams; "Mrs. Brown," Naomi Atkinson!; "Mrs. Bean," Myrtle Knight; "Mrs. Rice," Olive Boyd; "Mrs. Doolittle," Emma Crist; "Mrs. Taylor," Katherine Hopkins; "Mrs. Snow," Mehala Stillwagon; "Mrs. White," Amy Craig. It kept one laughing and wondering what was coming next from beginning to the end. All who took part showed marked ability as character portrayers, and the Colony club is to be congratulated in having such talent among its members. After the play the audience had the privilege of meeting the performers in their costumes, an unusual privilege not granted as a rule to audiences. It will not do to say too much about it, as it is desired for all to come see for themselves, Monday at 8.30 p. m., when it will be repeated for the benefit of those who were nable to see it last Wednesday afternoon. Tea was served, and all enjoyed a social hour.

Local residents are now experiencing considerable difficulty in having their garbage collected. Some time ago at a meeting of town council the matter was called to the attention of the members of the contractor's alleged neglect, and the solicitor was instructed to take the matter up at once with the contractor and his bondsmen which which was done and relief given for a short time. However, it was not long before complaints were made as usual. Last week the matter was again taken up with the contractor and it was pointed out to him that unless he attended to the collection of the garbage as per contract the borough authorities will be obliged to rely upon his bondsmen in order to see that the contract is lived up. At the time that information was given by the contractor who is George Boide, of near Broad Axe, that at present a contract does not exist, as it had been broken a long time ago when council failed to meet the payments as agreed under the contract. In the meantime the garbage is being collected in part, as there are still complaints coming in. The matter will be fully aired this Wednesday evening at the regular meeting of council.

Drivers of vehicles are finding considerable fault, and justly so, because of the conditions that the borough streets are allowed to remain in after they have been dug up for piping into houses. However the condition is one that the responsibility should be determined as quickly as possible and the proper remedy applied. Some of the conditions complained of are of long standing and should be looked after at once.

May 1st has come and gone and spring is here in all its awakening beauty with a season at least three weeks in advance of the average. Who ever recalls having experienced a May 1st with no fruit blossoms, all having come and gone. Truly, the early warm weather hastened their opening and later the two hard freezes were responsible for their premature failing. Most of the early fruit buds are killed and nearly the whole grape crop is doomed. Possibly a few late peaches, late apples and late strawberries will mature, but the local fruit growers are disconsolate indeed.

Last Friday A. M. Jenkins removed from Lindenwold avenue from one of the properties of L. B. Heckler to apartments in West Philadelphia. In the removal of Mr Jenkins the borough loses one of its foremost active citizens. Mr. Jenkins has been a resident of the borugh for 19 years, and during the period he was a member of the school board and later of council. Mr. Jenkin's stated that his only reason for removing is that his increase of rent plus railroad fare render it possible for him to live more reasonably within the city limits. It is also reported that these considerations are responsible for several other removals from our borough.

The State college wireless station, the gift of the class of 1912, is conducted by two electrical engineering student, Gilbert Crossley, of Erie, and J. Clarence Rile, of Broad Axe, and recently by the use of wireless telegraph and radiophone, officials of the college sent communications to the annual dinner of Pittsburgh Alumni of Penn. State college held in the latter city. J. Clarence Rile, who is a son of Mrs Elizabeth S. S. Rile Broad Axe, will be graduated from State college in June as an electrical engineer. The young man entered State college from the Ambler high school, class of 1915, when Ambler had a three-year high school course, and he is completing his college course in siren semesters and summer course. In the meantime having spent nearly two years in the service as radio operator. 10 months of that time he was operator of a hydrophone, doing coast defense work.

Agent William H. Mulvaney, of the Women's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Dumb Animals, paid a visit to Ambler last Wednesday and as a result Michael Zamkortz, of Maple street, and L. B. Heckler were defendants before Justice of the Peace Urban and each was obliged to pay a fine of $10 and costs. The former was charged with neglecting a sick cow which was allowed to lie in the woods near the home of the defendant without receiving any medical aid for a period of 14 days. In addition to paying the fine, Zambortz was directed by the justice to employ a veterinarian. It was a case of driving a horse without shoes with which Mr. Heckler was charged, Agent Mulvaney stating that complaint had reached his department several days ago. Lucy Signore and Frank Precini, of West Ambler, on Wednesday night, also settled their difference before the local justice over the right to use an alley in the rear of their home, which is known as Beech street.

The Swimmin' Hole

As years move on toward the sere, the over-ripe and yellow
I find my rules of youth become quite narrow, bent and mellow.
And likewise memory for things like
Bible texts and version Gets twisted when I take a chance at sacred lore incursion.

Then while I sit and meditate, these things confuse my thinking,
The ripple from the fount of youth, doth murmur, "You've been drinking."
The world around is smug my friend, presents a glassy vision
To all the arts that life reflect and culture wins derision

Take in the film, the dance, the show and cabaret for fare,
And pa's Pierce-Arrow must, of course be used to get them there.
I must not judge too harshly, for our times have surely changed
Truth still remains unsullied and it ne'er can be deranged.

I feast my eyes upon the scenes, the hopes of years to come
And mingle with the boys and girls
we welcome to our home
It's up to them to prove true men and worthy wives and women
I'll keep afloat on life's swift stream and learn the art of swimmin'.

Firemen Nearing $2000 Mark in Campaign.

Despite the business depression and lack of employment, the people are generously responding to the appeal of Conshohocken Fire Co., No. 2, in a campaign for $6500 for a new and complete modern, motor fire apparatus. The contributions to date approach $2000.

The Facts About Rheumatism.

More than nine out of ten cases of rheumatism are either chronic or muscular rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment. All that is required is to massage the affected parts freely with Chamberlain's Liniment. You will be surprised at the relief which it affords. may

Laying Gas Main.

The Counties Gas & Electric Company have been laying a gas main in West Third avenue, Conshohocken. After the borough graded the street the residents complained that they could not get gas service. The chamber of commerce took up the matter with the gas company and received their promise that they would lay the main beginning about April 1. The company has kept its promise and the residents will be supplied with gas within a few days.

Treatment of Common Colds.

"If all who catch cold could be persuaded to remain in bed for the first twenty-four hours of such an attack" says a well known physician "there would be fewer cases dragging on with distressing symptoms for weeks and often ending in some more serious disease." To make sure of a prompt recovery you should also take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Whether sick or well the bowels should be moved each day. may Motor Vehicles Collide.

Otto M. Entenman, of 318 Hector street, Conshohocken, reported to the police at city hall that while he was making the turn at the intersection of Main and DeKalb street, Norristown, his automobile collided with the motor cycle of Stephen Barco, of Abrams.

There were no injuries resulting and very little damage.

Conshohocken Hotel Purchased.

Title to the Keystone hotel property at First avenue and Fayette street, Conshohocken, owned by Harry J. Williams, passed to Harry O. Schwalbe, owner and operator of the local opera house and secretary and treasurer of the First National Film Exhibitors Circuit, the largest film producing company in the country.

Mr. Schwalbe has long been negotiating for the hotel property and after a year of negotiating the deal was closed by real estate broker C. A. Desimone, of Conshohocken.

Mr. Williams closed the hotel more than a year ago and purchased a farm above Jeffersonville. A few months ago he and his family removed to the farm and vacated the hotel building.

The property consists of the hotel building and frame buildings fronting on Fayette street and the stables and frame dwelling on First avenue. The property has a frontage on Fayette street of 60 feet and on First avenue of 124 feet. The price was $23,000.

Annual Church Supper.

The annual church supper of the Lower Providence Baptist congregation was held recently. Happy families mingled in the festivities around five large tables extending the entire length of the church. Mrs. Harry Clarke and her aids provided a splendid menu. Solos were rendered by Miss Alice Rossiter, L. I. Rossiter and Theodore Heysham, Jr. Of unusual interest was the presence of the oldest member of the congregation, Mrs. Sophia Keeler, aged 92 years, she responded to a call for an address in a cheery little speech. The first church building was erected in 1810, a structure 28 by 36 feet. A larger building was erected in 1836, another in 1843, and the present building in 1877. In this period seven members of the congregation have entered the ranks of the ministry.

Fire Wrecks Conshohocken Bakery

Fire in the Neil Bakery, Conshohocken, caused an explosion, from a leaking gas pipe, which wrecked the inside of the building, tearing plastering and flooring loose. The fire companies extinguished the flames before they gained great headway. Fire recently in the home of Henry Shimer, West Conshohocken, caused considerable damage on the upper floor, to which it was confined. Benjamin Constantine, of the George Clay Fire Company, had his hand badly injured by falling timbers. The smoke was so dense that masks were used in fighting the blaze.
